For sometime now we have been noticing the devious manner of some politicians and a few business people who seem to think that they are running for office (public) as well as seeking trade in ERIE COUNTY---rather than Monroe. Since the year 1934 *** we have been the only BLACK NEWSPAPER IN THE CITY OF ROCHESTER AND THE COUNTY OF MONROE.

We have observed one of our BLACK CANDIDATES by name Mr. Alec Peyton, advertising in Erie County and the City of *** Buffalo. We therefore take this opportunity to inform the people (voters) of Rochester and Monroe County that He is running for the office of LEGISLATOR FROM THE 25th DISTRICT, in the City OF ROCHESTER AND THE COUNTY OF MONROE. WE HOPE THAT IT WON'T BE ... NECESSARY TO REMIND HIM OR ANY ONE ELSE RUNNING FOR OFFICE IN THE CITY OF ROCHESTER AND THE COUNTY OF MONROE ... TO WATCH ... WHERE THEY ARE GOING.

The urban renewal (local Federal office) and the New York State Housing Office, that has to do with building new housing for the peoples of the Inner City (mostly black and Spanish speaking peoples) are dragging their feet as usual.

To be specific . . . they are still traveling on cloud (9) as usual. The bulldozers are busy running the peoples out of their homes, but they are not providing new homes.

Millions of dollars are being spent and more is on the way but black peoples receive very little representation on the state level or the federal level. There are several . . . thousand workers benefitting from the taking of the homes of black peoples, but there are only (12) actually working for these two agencies. In a few months the winter will be upon us and we will be hearing the same old refrain. Perhaps, we may be likened to the Biblical Jews, "we will hang our harps on the willows and find no song to sing."

We are saying to our readers start writing the newspapers, City Mgr., Mayor, your Congressman and Senators, perhaps they may do . . . something about it. It's getting near election time.

We had thought that, now that the Republicans are holding the Fort in Washington, that things might change; however, things have remained just about the same. We have been supporting the Republican party for some time and we intend to continue to do so, but we are going to continue to tell the story just like it is.

UPDATE 19

ANNUAL CONVENTION TO BE HELD NOV. 20
The Association's Annual Convention and election of new officers will be held Thursday, November 20, at 8 p.m. at Westminster Presbyterian Church, 330 Wellington Avenue, corner of Arnett Blvd. Only those who are paid-up members may vote, so all residents are urged to make sure they will be eligible to vote. Your District Delegate can tell you when your dues are due. (Non-members: See the map on page 2 of this newsletter to determine your District.)

A Nominating Committee headed by the Rev. Bruce Lederhouse of 89 Arvine Heights is currently seeking the names of persons to run for the offices of president, first and second vice presidents, secretary, and treasurer. Submit your suggestions by using the form below or by contacting Rev. Lederhouse, 436-5312, or any of the following committee members: Nancy Istock, 328-0358; Rev. Robert Collins, 235-3322; Barry Pless, 464-9363; Oralee Beach, 328-7909; Anthony Smith, 436-1493; Celia Roghmann, 436-7666.

Don't hesitate to nominate someone just because you think someone else will nominate him or her; in deciding the nominees to be placed on the ballot, the committee will take into consideration the number of times those names have been suggested.

Members of a Resolutions Committee will attend District meetings, to be held during October, to get ideas for actions to be taken during the coming year. See page 2 for the date and place of the meeting in your District, and plan to attend whether or not you are a member of the Association.

A Drop In The Bucket

YOUTH WORKER HIRED

A full-time youth worker has been hired by the Association to coordinate our programs for the young people of the 19th Ward. Thomas Argust, a graduate of Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, an ordained Baptist minister, comes to us from Detroit, where he was extensively involved in ecumenical work. His experience in getting various groups to work together toward common goals is expected to be valuable background for his work here, which will involve coordinating the Association's youth programs with those of other community agencies, such as churches and the "Y," according to Munro Jameson, chairman of the Association's Youth Committee.

A resolution thanking Bernie McCullen, the Association's former part-time youth worker, for his work with area youngsters was passed unanimously at the September meeting of the Delegates' Council.

Name of person you are nominating: _____ Your name and address: _____

SCHOOLS COMMITTEE COOPERATES WITH OTHER COMMUNITY GROUPS

With a year's experience behind it, the Schools Committee will focus on plans and programs for our neighborhood schools and will seek ways to involve parochial school parents. Meetings held last spring with principals at Schools 16, 29, 37, 44, Madison and West have established good working relationships. PTA groups from #16 and West are represented on the Schools Committee and we are now seeking representation from others. Mr. Benjamin Richardson, the new principal at West, met with the Schools Committee this summer and meetings with Mrs. Mildred Ness (#44 School Principal) and Mr. Henry Williams (Madison Principal) are coming up. Once principals, PTA groups, teachers, and the 19th Ward Community Association are all working together, there is no end to what can be accomplished.

This cooperation takes a practical form when the Association provides chaperones for West High social events. New plans call for separate social events and assemblies for junior and senior high students so our help will be needed more this year than ever. Many of you may be asked to give at least one evening this school year. Parents with children in the parochial schools can join in these efforts. Many of you may in the future, from choice or necessity, be sending children to public schools and this would give you a good opportunity to see what has been done and is being done to improve these schools.

Schools Committee members have volunteered to attend District meetings in October to answer questions, receive suggestions from Association members, and discuss past and future activities in which the Committee is involved.

The Association has applied for membership on the Advisory Planning Council on Quality Integrated Education. The complete text of the agreement reached between Dr. Goldberg and the United Federation of Inner City Parents is available from the Schools Committee or your District delegate. Three Schools Committee members were present during those negotiations along with other 19th Ward residents.

Finally, we are especially interested in adding members to the Committee who represent the School 44 and 29 areas.

Contact Mrs. Conrad Istock (328-0358) or your District delegate for further information on anything concerning the schools.

Your PTA group needs your IDEAS, your SUPPORT, your INVOLVEMENT. Join this year and become active.

Check with your school for time and place of the next meeting.

The Gannett papers reported in September that an agreement between Metro-Act and WHEC-TV (Channel 10) had led to the withdrawal of Metro-Act's objections to the renewal of Channel 10's license by the Federal Communications Commission. The station agreed to regularly consult an advisory council of community leaders on the problems facing the Rochester area and how the station can assist in their solution, to expand its news staff and its news programming, and to schedule special programs dealing with area problems in prime time. If local government officials, real estate interests, bankers, and businessmen; and quasi-public agencies were as responsive to the needs of the people they serve (or from whom they make their money) as they should be--instead of looking out for their own interests even when they conflict with the interests of this community--there would be no need for a 19th Ward Community Association.

The Community Association exists because most of the people who live in the 19th Ward care about its future, whether because they or their children expect to live here for the next five or ten or fifteen years, or because they want to get a fair price for their homes when they do move elsewhere, or just because they care about what's going on in America today and want to be "involved".

What's going on in America, and what the 19th Ward Community Association and other community organizations like it are trying to fight, is that some chickens are coming home to roost: lack of long-range urban planning; neglect of the problems of the poor and the racial minorities; educational methods that haven't kept up with the changing needs of youth; air, water, noise, and litter pollution; and many other problems that threaten to overwhelm us. Those who are affluent enough can temporarily escape some of these problems by moving to areas which are not yet affected by them, i.e., the suburbs. Those who are not affluent enough, and those who prefer the advantages of city life, can either ignore the problems and hope they will go away, or they can stand their ground and fight. We who are active in the 19th Ward Community Association have chosen to do the latter.

ATTENDANCE

Prompt and regular attendance at all class and laboratory sessions is required. Rochester Urban Center does not have an unlimited cut system of attendance, nor does it allow absences equal to the number of hours for the course, i.e. the so-called "three cut system".

The student is personally responsible for the satisfactory completion of course work prescribed by his instructors. Regular attendance and active participation in classes are essential elements in the learning process, and they provide a basis for an evaluation of student progress. The student, therefore, is expected to attend classes regularly.

Students shall communicate reasons for absences directly to the instructor. If it is possible, this communication should occur prior to the absence.

Faculty members will report students for excessive absence when such absence is adversely affecting the student's academic achievement in a particular course.

The following procedure will be used when students are absent more than six (6) times:

1. Interview with student.
2. Letter to parents.
3. Letter to Draft Board.

DRAFT DEFERMENTS

Students requesting draft deferments should see Miss Culbert, Registrar. A letter will be sent to the draft board indicating that you are in school. If you have more than six (6) unexcused absences, we may have to notify the draft board.

GRADING SYMBOLS

Withdrawal with Penalty
WF - Withdrawal, Failing
WFX - Dismissal from Class Non-academic Reasons
Withdrawal without Penalty
WP -Withdrawal, Passing
EH-Withdrawal, Health Reasons
WPX-Dismissal from Class; Non-Academic Reasons
Grade	Interpretation
A.....	Excellent
B.....	Very Good
C.....	Average
D.....	Passing
F.....	Failure
I.....	Incomplete

The grade of I (incomplete) is normally issued only when a student is unable to be present for a final examination. In those cases where an I is issued, it is the responsibility of the student to make all arrangements to complete the course requirements, to the satisfaction of the instructor and within the specified period. Failure to do so will result in the grade of I.

The grade of WP (withdraw, no penalty) shall be issued at any time up to mid-semester, if the student is passing the course and initiates an official withdrawal.

The grade of WPX shall be issued if there is an exceptional (non-academic) reason which the Dean Considers valid.

The WP may be issued after the mid-semester period only if the student is forced to withdraw from some or all courses because of induction into the armed forces. The student, however, must be maintaining a passing grade (D or better) at the time of the withdrawal. The WH may be issued for reasons of health.

The grade of WF (withdraw, failing) shall be issued at any time up to mid-semester, if the student initiates the withdrawal later than the "grace period" for withdrawal indicated in the current bulletin or is failing the course at the time of his withdrawal. After mid-semester, the grade of F shall be issued for all withdrawals except the valid cases previously referred to in this section.

REPEATING COURSES

A student may repeat a credit course. The first level course may not be repeated after the student has passed the second or highest level course, except with permission of the department chairman. All courses grades appear on the academic record. In cases where courses are repeated, the official grade will be the last grade recorded, whether it is higher or lower than the original. The official grade earned in the course will count toward the student's Cumulative Point Average.

A student may not repeat a non-credit course except on the advice of the department chairman.

LIBRARY SERVICES

The Library is administered in the belief that a student's contact with books is a major part of his education.

The primary aim of the professional library staff is to teach students the best use of the library's resources.

HOURS

While the Center is in session, the Library is open:

Monday - Friday.....9:00 A. M.
To.....3:00 P. M.

EMERGENCY INFORMATION

In case of severe weather conditions or emergency situations which could affect the regular schedule of Center classes, arrangements to carry the information have been made with all radio and television stations.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS

Students should take particular note of exit signs in each building. Specific details on fire instructions will be provided later.

WEEKLY BULLETIN

A large bulletin board will be located in the main corridor. A weekly Student Bulletin will be published every Monday when the Center is in session and posted at this location.

It is essential that students notify the Registration office on any legal change in name, such as through marriage. Address changes must also be reported since all grades are mailed directly to the student.

A fine of 5 cents per day per book is charged for overdue books. The Reserve book fine is 25 cents per hour for each overdue book.

DEAN'S LIST

A student maintaining all A's or B's with no F's will be placed on the Dean of Instruction's List.

STUDENT DRESS

A serious attitude toward academic work and responsibilities as a student in college can be reflected by one's personal appearance. Personal appearance is a criterion future employers will use in selecting candidates for positions. Proper dress on campus, therefore, is important; all students should realize the value of neat, suitable attire.

A rule of thumb for acceptable campus attire is that it should consist of informal clothing which is neat, clean and in good taste.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS

Shortly after registration each student will be issued an identification card (ID), which must be carried at all times. This card will be needed to obtain materials from the Urban Center Library.

When a student withdraws or is terminated from the Center, the ID card must be returned as part of the withdrawal procedure. ID cards are non-transferable.

TO BE YOUNG,

GIFTED AND BLACK

"A joyous, laughter-filled event," is coming to Rochester. "Wonderfully moving and entertaining," says Clive Barnes, N. Y. Times. "A deeply moving theatrical experience, imaginatively conceived, superbly played!" says Wingate WOR. "Inspired! The words and imagery of a Black O'Casey," says the National Guardian. "A Triumph! It is a chapter of history yet unfinished, and a reminder of where we lost our way!" says Wechsler, N.Y. Post. "Best Black Show in Town!" Our most effective dramatist. The Cherry Lane is a glow these days," says the Amsterdam News.

"FANTASTICKS"

Members of Zeta Nu chapter, Alpha Psi Omega drama fraternity, will finance and stage "The Fantasticks," Oct. 29 through Nov. 3 at 8:15 p.m., each evening in the Black Box Theater, State University at Geneseo.

News from the University of Rochester

Comedian and 1968 Presidential hopeful Pat Paulsen will share the stage of the University of Rochester's Palestra with pop-singing group "Kenny Rogers and the First Edition" on Saturday, Nov. 1 at 8:45 p.m.

Paulsen first came to national attention as a regular on "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour," where he delivered weekly editorials on subjects ranging from the war on poverty ("We can win the war on poverty by shooting 400 beggars a week") to sex education ("I am opposed to sex education in the schools. Let kids learn it where we did -- in the gutter.")

As the 1968 Presidential elections drew near, Paulsen announced his candidacy, assuring his supporters that, no matter what the outcome, he would remain "the common, ordinary, simple savior of America's destiny." Despite his efforts, which included an 89-cent-a-plate testimonial dinner at the Beverly Hills' Ontra Cafeteria and another at New York's Horn & Hardart Automat, Paulsen was edged out at the polls. Kenny Rogers and the First Edition, whose hits have included "Ruby Don't Take Your Love To Town," "Just Dropped In To See What Condition My Condition Was In," and "But You Know I Love You," claim to have received more network television time than any other pop-rock group. They have appeared on "The Ed Sullivan Show," "The Tonight Show," and "The Today Show," among others, and have entertained at colleges and clubs across the country.

Tickets for the show, at $3.25 and $3.75, can be ordered by writing to the Social Activities Board, Box 5014, River Campus Station, Rochester, N.Y.

Auditions for "Gideon" To Continue at JY

Herb Sufrin, director of the Theatre Center at the Jewish Young Men's and Women's Association, announced that additional tryouts for "Gideon," the first play of the season, will be held Sunday, Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday, October 19, 20, 22, and 23. Auditions were previously held during the week of October 6. Audition time on Sunday, Oct. 19, will be at 2 p.m. They will begin at 8 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday, at the JY, 380 Andrews Street. Sufrin said that the tryouts are open to anyone in the community with interest or experience in acting. "Gideon," written by Paddy Chayefsky, enjoyed a successful run on Broadway a few years ago. The JY production will mark its first local stage presentation.

K. Roll Exciting Candidate

Merwyn Kroll is an exciting, new face on the Rochester political scene. As a Republican-Liberal candidate for City Council, he has already demonstrated those qualities of leadership which we need in City government.

M. Kroll

Kroll was born in Rochester and resides with his wife, Ilana, who is expecting in January, at 2101 East Avenue. He is a graduate of Cornell University (class of 1957) and the University of Michigan Law School (class of 1961). He served in the U.S. Army as a lieutenant and later in the Army reserves.

Kroll is a partner in the law firm of Martin, Dutcher, Cooke, Mousaw and Vigdor, where he specializes in labor law and litigation. He is a member of the Monroe County, New York State and American Bar Associations and the Monroe County Trial Lawyers Association.

Active in community affairs, Kroll is a member of the Board of Directors of the Rochester Association for the United Nations and City Club; former member of the Board of Directors, vice-president, and Assistant to the President of the Rochester Junior Chamber of Commerce; founding chairman of the Jaycee Youth Scholarship Committee and Foreign Affairs Committee and member of the Rochester International Friendship Council.

Kroll is also active in Jewish Community many low-income dwellings have been demolished in Rochester as have been built since the riots of 1964. More than 2,500 poor families have been uprooted from their homes due to demolition because of decay, urban renewal and highway construction. Kroll pledges that he will work with private non-profit corporations and the Rochester Housing Authority to try to provide 14,000 low-income and moderate-income dwellings over the next six years.

Kroll wants to encourage neighborhood planning efforts such as those undertaken by the Model Neighborhood Council. In addition, he wants to bring neighborhood groups into the day-by-day decision making of city government. He has suggested that City Council meetings be held in neighborhoods and the right of citizens to speak at City Council meetings be restored.

Kroll also wants to reverse the deterioration of city services such as street cleaning and garbage collection. He pledges that he will work to see that you get the services you're paying for without another increase in City taxes.

Merwyn Kroll asks that you support him on the Republican or Liberal line for City Council on November 4.

Daylight saving ends Sunday, October 26 ...and we'll be working longer hours for you.

Fewer hours of daylight will mean more indoor living for most of us, and we'll be using more gas and electric energy to run the things that make indoor living comfortable and more fun.

Increased use of gas and electric energy will mean bigger gas and electric bills. There's not much we can do about this annual turn of events out of doors, but we do everything we can to make living inside your home more pleasant.

When you stop to consider what they provide in comfort and good living, gas and electricity are the biggest bargains in your household budget today.

THE HUMAN SIDE OF SELLING

Director of Sales Training for RG&E, Robert J. Hilliard, will start a new sales program entitled "The Human Side of Selling." The program is designed for professional salesmen. However, the subject matter is applicable to anyone interested in learning more about the behavior that takes place in all kinds of selling situations. Although the psychological aspects of selling and the language of the Psychologist is talked in depth, the program is not intended to make an amateur Psychologist of anyone. The program is intended to enable you to better understand and cope with your fellow human being, especially in selling situations. The program is scheduled to start on September 23, at 9:00 A.M. and run for 12 sessions. The group that will attend the first "Human Side of Selling" program includes Division Managers, Department Managers and store owners involved in the appliance business. If more information regarding this program is desired, contact Carl Corea at RG&E.

"Stand tall... you're entering Eagle Country."
This was the sign that greeted us as we arrived at Camp Ray, the replacement and training school of the 101st Airborne Division. On the backside of the same sign there was also another, more prophetic, statement: "Stay Alert-Stay Alive." We were now, officially, Screaming Eagles. None of us knew what to expect. We had been in Vietnam a total of nineteen hours.

Camp Ray is a small, transient military installation, located barely a quarter of a mile off the main runway at Bien Hoa Air Force Base, where we had first touched down on Vietnamese soil. It consists of a few dozen crudely-constructed tin-and-wood hooches and a few modern, structural-steel buildings. The camp serves as an induction and training center for all incoming division personnel and also as an outprocessing station for all Screaming Eagles going on R&R or going "Back to the World" for good. Its population is thus constantly changing - the only part that never changes are the two distinctly different populations of the camp; half are always experienced, seasoned Screaming Eagle veterans - and the other half are anxious, bewildered "Cherries."

The duck-and-a-half truck deposited us at the induction hooch where a seasoned staff sergeant wrote down our names and then assigned us to a hooch. After we had moved our equipment to our building, we returned to the sergeant who then put us all on details. I was placed in charge of a six-man detail to clean the latrines and shower-houses. The process of cleaning latrines in Vietnam is strange to Americans accustomed to modern plumbing; all waste is soaked in kerosene and then stirred and burned. We worked for an hour and then retired to the PX and snack bar.

The following morning, we processed in. This consists of a review of your 201 file and also an assessment of how much money the government owes you. Most of us left the finance hooch with more money than we had ever received in the states. All personnel in Vietnam receives extra hazardous - duty pay, overseas pay, and special savings plans. In addition, no funds earned in Vietnam are taxable.

The money you receive in Vietnam, along with the plumbing, requires some getting used to. All money here is paper money, all the way from a nickel up to the twenty-dollar bill, the largest denomination. Each denomination is engraved with a different military scene from Vietnam. For the first time in our lives we had to watch carefully to make sure that we did not mistake a twenty-dollar bill for a nickel or dime. It really takes some practice.

We were then ordered to spend some of our new money on a haircut so four of us walked over to one of the Vietnamese barber-shops for what proved to be both a unique experience and a lesson in oriental business "techniques." Here is how the average G.I. learns his lesson:

The G.I. walks into the Vietnamese barber-shop, cautiously and slowly. A native barber approaches you, smiling and bowing. He points to his chair and the G.I. settles down into it, noting with surprise even over here, 10,000 miles away from his favorite, Neighborhood Barbershop, Wildroot and Vitalis with V7 are the popular hair dressings. The Vietnamese barber points to a sign tacked on the wall over the mirror and asks you to point to the haircut you want. The G.I. points to number five - the All-American Trim. The barber then bows to the G.I. again and proceeds with the job of cutting and trimming. First he uses an ancient electric clipper and then he finishes the job with a comb and scissors. You in each knuckle. Now the G.I. is thoroughly confused and bewildered. Hey, what the heck is going on here! It is at this point that he first notices the price list posted on the wall, above the mirror. This is what the G.I. sees on the price list:

Haircut or trim - $4.00
Massage of scalp - .25
Back massage - .30
Finger treatment (each finger) - .25
Hair or oil treatment - .25
At this point the G.I. is very, very angry. He settles down in the chair a little farther, muttering something to himself. He tries foreign aid its down to the individual Vietnamese natives!" His basic training has just begun.

The next morning our formal training at Camp Ray began. We each drew an M-16 automatic rifle, rucksack and backpack frame, and other pieces of field gear. Each of us received seven meals - rations and we winced as we read the familiar olive-drab labels: pork and beans, turkey, B3A unit with crackers and chocolate, spaghetti and meat balls, dressed eggs and ham. We also drew informative little pamphlets on the Vietnamese didn't have much trouble keeping awake during classes.

Finally our last class was completed and we got more haircuts and then reported to Classroom One for our graduation. An outstanding trainee-of-the-cycle was rewarded with a plaque and then a colonel arrived and gave us our graduation address. "Men, you are now proud Screaming Eagles. You are now ready to cope with any situation in Vietnam, regardless of your M.O.S. (i.e. military specialty). We are proud of you. Our government and the Vietnamese government are proud of you. Your family and friends are proud of you. And last but not least - General Hershey is proud of you. You are true men of the airborne spirit, ready to meet the challenge, whatever it might be. Stay alert - stay alive." We all filed out of the room and over to the chapel for religious services. The service consisted mostly of prayers and none of us failed to bow our head and close our eyes and add our own silent, hopeful wishes to God. It was a moment of silent, individual introspection and reverence.

With the religious services completed, we packed up all our belongings and moved out to the assembly point. The sergeant in charge handed each of us our set of orders and told us to assemble in groups, according to our unit assignment. I looked at my orders reluctantly, full of anxiety over what my assignment for the coming year would be. Already I could hear groans from others. I didn't want to look, but I realized that I would have to look sometime, so I unstapled the sheets of paper and read:

Scipione, Paul A. 111-38-1385 Sp4 MOS-71L20, Administrative Specialist. Assigned to 101st Administrative Company (Rear) at Bien Hoa. By order of the Commanding General, 101st Airborne Division (airmobile).

Suddenly I felt relieved. I felt happy and I smiled at the guy next to me. He noticed my grin and looked at my orders. Then he nodded and showed me his - assigned to infantry rifle company so-and-so, at Camp Eagle. I looked closely into his eyes and could see his fear, frustration and disappointment. What makes one man different from another, I began to think. What criteria does an army use to determine what a man will do and where he will go and what he will have to experience. But then it occurred to me also that we, all of us there together, were Americans, equals as human beings, with similar fears, wishes, and dreams for the future. We are all in Vietnam together, and all of us have a job to do. Besides anything else, it was a moment of comradeship and devotion to hard and exacting work so that next year each of us could say goodbye to Vietnam, in one piece, and get aboard that "Freedom Bird" and head back home. No matter what each of us thinks about the Vietnam war and about wars in general, we are brothers now and we have to work together and protect each other from the ugly things a war can do. And maybe, when we all get home next year, maybe we can learn to be brothers at home too.

note with satisfaction that he takes the comb out of a sterilization unit. Man, just like the barber at home! The G.I. is beginning to feel comfortable when the native barber asks innocently - "G.I. come down here to go home?" The G.I. shakes his head sheepishly and says, "No, I only wish I was going home. But I just got here yesterday." - "Too bad, but you will like it here. You will like Papa-san and Mama-san." The G.I. doesn't say anything now. He just closes his eyes and imagines that he's still at home, sitting in his favorite, neighborhood barbershop. He doesn't keep his eyes closed for very long, however. For strange things are beginning to happen. First the barber presses his hands together and begins to beat the G.I. on the head, mumbling strange, musical words. Then he proceeds to massage and beat the G.I.'s back and arms. He then asks the G.I. to open his hands and begins to pull separately on each finger. Till there is that familiar crackling sound hard not to let the native barber notice his clagrin. Soon the barber is finished and he removes the white heat from around the G.I.'s neck. His first Vietnamese haircut is completed. The barber smiles and then bows again and says - "I give number-one G.I. Number-One haircut, yes?" - The G.I. looks around the room but doesn't answer. He says - "How much?" - The barber does some elaborate mental-arithmetic and then says - "G.I. owe me one dollar ninety cents." The G.I. smacks himself on or about the forehead and again mutters some unintelligible statement. Reluctantly he digs the money out of his wallet. He parts with it very slowly, looking at the barber with a very hurt expression. The barber takes the money and bows and smiles again. "Number-one G.I. come back soon for another number-one haircut?" The G.I. puts on his hat and turns toward the door. He doesn't answer the barber. But as he leaves the barber-shop he says to himself "Number-one G.I. just learned lesson number-one in 'how American language and customs. We noticed right away that there was no information in them on the procedures for getting a Vietnamese haircut. Right away our faith in the pamphlets waned.

For six days we hiked out to the fields, holding our M-16 rifles at the combat-ready position and with our rucksacks on our backs, crammed with C-rations, transistor radios, and the latest issues of Playboy and "Real Stag" magazines. Our feet got a little sore, but we told ourselves how rugged Screaming Eagles were and we managed to get through the training without much trouble. I had really gone "down hill" since my weeks of ranger training at Fort Benning. We had recored-fire on the M-16 and then fired the M-60 machine gun M-79 grenade launcher, and the M-72 anti-tank weapon. We ran through a combat-stimulation course and then learned about V.C. mines and booby traps. We then learned how to call in artillery fire and tach-air strikes. It is all good-to-know information for survival in Vietnam and we

NAVY TIMES

II: 1865 TO THE PRESENT

Black Americans and the U.S. Navy

THIS IS the second of a two-part series describing the historical participation of the black American in the U.S. Navy. Part two traces his role in seapower from 1865 to the present.

IN THE 40 years of peace that followed the Civil War, black Americans continued to serve in the U.S. Navy. Some distinguished themselves as heroes, while most did their routine jobs, and did them well.

Joseph B. Noil, a native of Nova Scotia, was one of the heroes. He was a crewmember on the USS Powhatan when that ship was anchored off the coast of Virginia Dec. 26, 1872. About 11 p.m., Noil heard a shipmate fall overboard. Without hesitation he jumped into the 25-degree water and pulled Boatswain's Mate J. C. Walton back on board. Walton was exhausted, but safe. For this heroic act, Noil became the sixth black sailor to earn the Medal of Honor.

When the Spanish-American War broke out in 1898, the Navy continued its policy of enlisting black Americans into the ranks on a fully-integrated basis. Black enlisted men and petty officers served in the engineering departments and at the guns of the ships that defeated the Spanish at Manila and Santiago.

IT WAS the Spanish-American War that established the United States as a power on the seas. Two black American sailors were cited for extraordinary courage during this war, receiving Medals of Honor.

On Feb. 11, 1898, just a few days after war was declared, Daniel Atkins, a ship's cook from Virginia, was aboard the USS Cushing en route to Cuba. Huge waves swept the deck. A lifeline broke, and a young officer was swept overboard.

After a rescue attempt by boat failed, one crewmember tried to swim to him, but was exhausted by the time he reached the officer's lifeless body.

Atkins then tied a line around his waist and plunged into the water. He swam to the two men and tied ropes around both. One at a time, all three were pulled back aboard by their shipmates, but the officer was dead. Atkins was praised for his gallant conduct and later awarded the Medal of Honor.

ROBERT PENN, also a native of Virginia, was on duty near the boiler room of the USS Iowa a few months later. Suddenly the ship was ripped by an explosion. Penn, a fireman second, rushed to the scene and found boiling water pouring from a ruptured boiler. The hot coals had to be removed from the steam boiler or else there might be another explosion.

Penn placed a board across two buckets in order to keep his feet out of the scalding water covering the floor. Then he carefully began the process of transferring the fire to a safe place. For this act, performed at the risk of serious injury, Penn also earned the Medal of Honor.

During World War I the Navy first began showing partiality in its treatment and use of black personnel. Some 10,000 black Americans volunteered for the Naval service during that time, but for the most part, they were assigned noncombatant roles.

Fully-integrated living quarters were maintained aboard Navy ships until 1920, at which time segregation became apparent. In addition, black Americans only were allowed to enlist as stewards or to fill jobs on supply-type vessels.

SUCH CONDITIONS did not prevent individuals from serving valiantly during World War II. Dorie Miller, for example, was a steward aboard the battleship West Virginia docked at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

During the attack by Japanese aircraft, Miller helped his wounded captain to cover. He then manned a machine gun, which he never had been trained to operate, and destroyed at least two attacking airplanes. He later was awarded the Navy Cross by Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

In 1943, Miller was one of the many men killed when the aircraft carrier Liscombe Bay was torpedoed and sunk by a Japanese submarine.

Leonard Roy Harmon also was a steward during World War II. During the battle for the Solomon Islands in the western Pacific, Harmon rendered valuable assistance in evacuating the wounded on board the cruiser San Francisco and caring for them at a dressing station. He was killed by enemy gunfire while trying to protect a shipmate. A destroyer escort named USS Harmon was launched in 1943.

BEGINNING IN 1942, the Navy demonstrated an enlightened view toward desegregation and equal opportunity for all of its personnel. More than 30 directives were issued between 1942 and 1947 in order to make equal opportunity a reality in the fleet.

One of the first steps taken was to tackle the long-neglected area of procuring officers from the black community. During the period between the Civil War and World War II, no black Americans were commissioned as officers in the Navy.

In 1943 however, the Navy announced its intention of training those who met officer candidate school qualifications. Between 1943 and 1954, a total of 60 black officers were sworn into the Navy from this program.

In 1949, Wesley Brown became the first black man to graduate from the Naval Academy. Several other black Americans had been appointed to the Academy before TODAY'S NAVY has black officers serving in all ranks from warrant to captain.

Brown, the first in 1872, but none had completed the course of study.

BY THE TIME of the Korean War, the black officer and enlisted man once again were an integral part of the Navy's operating forces, and a fleet-wide competitive examination system was instituted to insure promotions based on ability instead of a man's racial heritage.

Among the officers who served with distinction in the Korean War was Ens. Jesse L. Brown, a native of Mississippi. Brown was the first black American to win the wings of a Naval aviator. For a daring series of attacks on enemy ground troops and supply lines, costing him his life on Dec. 5, 1950, Brown was posthumously awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal.

In a further effort to recruit black officers, the Navy established a Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps unit at a predominantly black college, Prairie View A&M in Texas in April 1968. The first class of officer candidates will be graduated in May 1970.

Today the black American is an active participant in all aspects of Navy life. The black officer is found in any type of duty and in any rank from warrant officer to captain. The more than 35,000 black enlisted men are divided among all pay grades and all ratings.

Seapower is the mission of the Navy. This mission is fulfilled with the help of black Navy men and women, who are proud of their heritage that was once forgotten.

YWCA News

With the acceptance of a pledge of $75,000 by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gorham on Tuesday, October 21, 1969, Mrs. J. Donald Fewster, President of the YWCA of Rochester and Monroe County, announced plans for further modernization and expansion of the Association's Camp Onanda on Canandaigua Lake, beginning with the building of additional dining space and a year round Camping facility. The formal pledge and acceptance were made at a luncheon at the Century Club where Mr. and Mrs. Gorham were honored by Mrs. Fewster, Mrs. Theodore J. Altier, Mrs. James A. Cameron, Mrs. Vernon G. Lippitt and Mrs. Wylie S. Robson of the YWCA Executive Committee; Mrs. Ronald McDonald, Jr., 1968-69 Chairman of the Camp Committee; Mr. and Mrs. Henri P. Projansky, devoted friends of the YWCA and Camp Onanda; Mr. Richard Parks, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Trustees; Miss Carol C. Dean, YWCA Executive Director and Miss Barbara Fisher, Camp Director. The $75,000 gift pledge was tendered with the understanding that the remainder of the $175,000 required for building a year-round camping facility will be available through the YWCA.

The YWCA Camp Committee, while marking Onanda's Fiftieth Anniversary this year, instituted a study of future camping needs for girls in this community and present-day trends in camping. They found that there will be a growing need for year-round camping facilities in this area during the coming decade as well as a vital need to accommodate more girls for summer camping. The expansion program will include enlargement of dining facilities for summer camping and the addition of a winterized building containing meeting and activity rooms and dining and sleeping facilities which can be used for winter camping and meetings of youth and adult groups and which will also provide more space for summer camping.

Consisted of three buildings with accommodations for 90 campers. Since that time the Camp has grown and expanded to its present seventy-four and a half acres with facilities for 165 girls per camp session. During the 1969 season total Camp attendance was filled to capacity, as it has been for the past two decades, with a total of 657 girls attending the four Camp sessions. Cheerleader Training Camp for high school girls, held during a five-day period directly after close of regular camp, accommodated another 185 girls. During the late spring and early fall it is open to youth and adult groups for week-end camping.

May Outlines Republican Housing Program

Councilman Stephen May said recently that a new Republican city administration, working with nonprofit corporations, the State Urban Development Corporation and the Rochester Housing Authority, will provide 14,000 moderate-income units over the next six years. He said great stress will be placed on cooperation with neighborhood housing groups, encouragement for instant housing projects, stronger code enforcement and rehabilitation as means to meet the ambitious housing goals.

As many low-income dwellings have been demolished as have been built in Rochester since the riots of 1964. "It's a shameful record of neglect and mismanagement" May added. "Over 2500 poor families have been uprooted from their homes by decay, urban renewal and highway construction. Inadequate code enforcement by a Buildings Department which still cannot do the job in spite of two grand jury investigations, has accelerated the housing crisis," May said. He emphasized that the Republican program will make "maximum use of private, non-profit corporations which can produce more attractive housing and do it more quickly." He said that top priority will be given to nonprofit groups formed by residents who live in neighborhoods where projects are to be located. "This will encourage neighborhood participation and cooperation in overcoming our housing crisis and rebuilding Rochester," May added. Strong City Hall encouragement for instant housing projects (such as Capsule Dwellings), utilization of new techniques in housing rehabilitation and reorganization of the Buildings Department to insure stringent code enforcement will be other key ingredients in the Republican housing program, May concluded.

Jan. 20-24 - YMCA Doubles Championship. Jan. 27-31 - YMCA Singles Championship. Feb. 10-14 - YMCA Class B Singles Championship Monroe County Doubles at the JY.
